SOLO INSTRUMENT

Andrew Wright

The image shows two staves of musical notation in 4/4 time, key of B-flat major. The first staff begins with a treble clef, a key signature of one flat (B-flat), and a 4/4 time signature. The tempo marking is '(♩ = ca. 69)'. The melody consists of a series of eighth and quarter notes, with a long slur over the first six measures. The second staff continues the melody with a quarter note, a half note, and a quarter note, ending with a double bar line.

Composer Notes

This beautiful and central psalm text in Scripture, set here in responsorial form, may be used on a number of occasions in the liturgy for Holy Orders and Chrism Mass. It is also relevant to Advent; specifically, it is the proper psalm for the Fourth Sunday of Advent, Year B.

At the heart of this psalm is the covenant God made with David; this covenant is fulfilled today by those who commit their lives to God in faithfulness, trust and hope. We are drawn more deeply into the permanency of this covenant relationship in the person of Mary, whom we celebrate in the Season of Advent.

In practical terms, the setting has a number of possible uses for various combinations of assembly, cantor, choir (in harmony), accompanied or unaccompanied, with optional instrument and with or without the verses (the refrain itself can be simply and effectively repeated for any liturgical occasion). The setting is meditative and sustained, but at the same time, voices should remain rhythmic, especially on notes of the same pitch.
