

Introduction

The singing of the Passion is an ancient practice in the Latin Rite. The music gives the proclamation both a solemnity and an intensity that is appropriate for the Good Friday liturgy.

The Music: Sung Speech

Fr. Columba Kelly, OSB, has set the text of the Lectionary (second typical edition) to the ancient tone for this proclamation. The tone has been carefully adapted for the rhythm and accentuation of the English language.

Care should be taken to preserve the natural English rhythm of the text. The notes are not of equal value. Rather they should reflect the length and intensity of the English accent. The singers should read through the text out loud and determine how they would proclaim the text orally. Having made that judgment, they can then add the music. This type of music is sung speech in which the music serves the text.

Division into Scenes

The text has been divided into eighteen scenes in order to assist the singers when practicing and proclaiming the Passion.

The Characters

Traditionally the text is divided between three singers: the Christus, the Narrator, and the People.

This presentation also provides the possibility of further divisions in order to distribute the burden of singing among a larger group if that seems appropriate. The singing of the Passion takes about twenty-five minutes. Practicalities may dictate that part be read and part be sung. The sections for the duos, trios, and the crowd may be sung in unison, but where there are resources, these sections should be sung in harmony.

The narrator's role has been divided between Narrator 1 and Narrator 2. The largest burden is still borne by Narrator 1, but the scenes of Peter's denial as well as the dialogues between Christ and Pilate are given to Narrator 2.

The other characters are divided out as indicated by the text with a few passages for duos and trios. As is clear from the text, Pilate is a major character in the Passion of John, and there is a real advantage to making him, at least, a separate voice.

The characters are as follows:

The Christus, designated in the music by the Cross: ✠

The Narrator

Narrator 1, designated in the music as N1

Narrator 2, designated in the music as N2

The People

Pilate (fifteen times)

Peter (twice)

Maid (once)

Trio of accusers (twice)

Trio of soldiers (once)

Slave (once)

Guard (once)

Duo of High Priests (twice)

The Crowd (nine times)

The Presentation

The sung proclamation of the Passion is not meant to be a realistic presentation of the action. Still the words of the text should communicate the vitality and the mystery of the Lord's Passion and Death. An over-wrought presentation calls attention to itself instead of the text while a tepid approach belies the power of the words. The proclamation need only reveal the power of the words.

Pilate: “Look, I am bringing him out to you,
so that you may know that I find no guilt in him.”

wearing the crown of thorns and the purple cloak.

11. Jesus and Pilate

N2: Now when Pilate heard this statement,
he became even more afraid,
and went back into the praetorium and said to Jesus,

Pilate: “Where are you from?”

N2: Jesus did not answer him.
So Pilate said to him,

Pilate: “Do you not speak to me?
Do you not know that I have power to release you and I have power to crucify you?”

N2: Jesus answered him,

✘ “You would have no power over me
if it had not been given to you from above.
For this reason the one who handed me over to you has the greater sin.”

12. Pilate and the People

N1: Consequently, Pilate tried to release him;

N1: When Pilate heard these words he brought Jesus out and seated him on the judge's bench
in the place called Stone Pavement, in Hebrew, Gabbatha.
It was preparation day for Passover, and it was about noon.
And he said to the Jews,

Pilate: "Behold, your king!"

13. The Crucifixion

N1: So they took Jesus, and, carrying the cross himself, he went out to what is called the Place of the Skull, in Hebrew, Golgotha. There they crucified him, and with him two others, one on either side, with Jesus in the middle. Pilate also had an inscription written and put on the cross. It read,

N2: “Jesus the Nazorean, the King of the Jews.”

N1: Now many of the Jews read this inscription, because the place where Jesus was crucified was near the city; and it was written in Hebrew, Latin, and Greek.

So the chief priests of the Jews said to Pi-late,

M f
Tenor Solo “Do not write ‘The King of the Jews,’ but that he said, ‘I am the King of the Jews.’”

N1: Pilate answered,

Pilate: “What I have written, I have written.”

14. The Soldiers Divide Jesus’ Clothing

N1: When the soldiers had crucified Jesus, they took his clothes and divided them into four shares, a share for each soldier. They also took his tunic, but the tunic was seamless, woven in one piece from the top down.

16. The Death

N1: After this, aware that everything was now finished,
in order that the Scripture might be fulfilled,
Jesus said,

✘ “I thirst.”

N1: There was a vessel filled with common wine.
So they put a sponge soaked in wine on a sprig of hyssop
and put it up to his mouth.
When Jesus had taken the wine, he said,

✘ “It is finished.”

N1: And bowing his head, he handed over the spirit.

Here all kneel and pause for a short time.

17. The Fulfillment of the Scriptures

N1: Now since it was preparation day, in order that the bodies might not remain on the cross on the sabbath, for the sabbath day of that week was a solemn one,
the Jews asked Pilate that their legs be broken and that they be taken down.

So the soldiers came and broke the legs of the first and then of the other one who was crucified with Jesus.

But when they came to Jesus and saw that he was already dead,
they did not break his legs,
but one soldier thrust his lance into his side,
and immediately blood and water flowed out.

An eyewitness has testified, and his testimony is true;
he knows that he is speaking the truth,
so that you also may come to believe.

For this happened so that the Scripture passage might be fulfilled:

N2: Not a bone of it will be broken.

N1: And again another passage says:

N2: They will look upon him whom they have pierced.

18. The Burial

N1: After this, Joseph of Arimathea, secretly a disciple of Jesus for fear of the Jews,
asked Pilate if he could remove the body of Jesus.
And Pilate permitted it.

So he came and took his body.

Nicodemus, the one who had first come to him at night,
also came bringing a mixture of myrrh and aloes
weighing about one hundred pounds.

They took the body of Jesus
and bound it with burial cloths along with the spices, according to the Jewish burial custom.

Now in the place where he had been crucified there was a garden,
and in the garden a new tomb, in which no one had yet been buried.
So they laid Jesus there because of the Jewish preparation day;
for the tomb was close by.
