Composer Notes

This is St. Paul's powerful and moving testimony about the redemptive suffering of Christ, who taught us to let go of power and embrace our weakness. God's grace is more than enough to see us through any trial.

The key to performing this song lies in keeping it simple. Sometimes at liturgy we have too much of what I call "AIAT" (All Instruments, All the Time). Give the musicians and the assembly a break and try varying the times when all the instruments are playing. For this song, I recommend piano and cello (if you have one) only.

The melody is almost chant-like. Try singing the first refrain a cappella, like chant. Bring in the contrapuntal harmony after the first verse. Breaking into SATB on Verse 3 will make the song soar; please watch the dynamics. Bring the song to a soft landing with a solemn final refrain.
