Tpts mf

Unison choir mf

1. Praise be to you, O Font of all cre - a - tion,
 *Nour - ished are we and shaped by our tra - di - tions:

13

1. for by your Word, you made both great and small:
 Mer - cy and Grace and Wis - dom from on high.

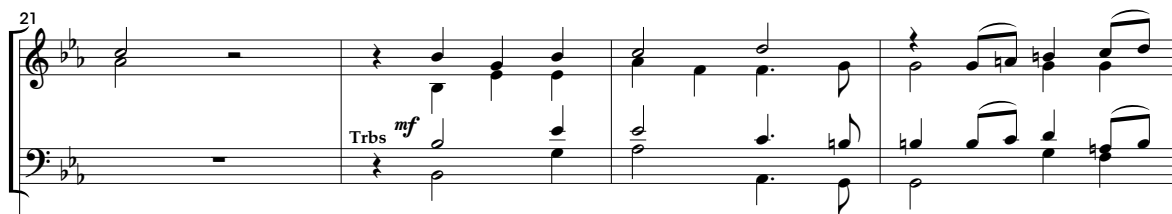

17

1. this ver - dant earth, the seas, the star - ry heav - ens,
 So may our lives re - flect this Ho - ly Mys - t'ry,

The musical score is written in a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat) and a common time signature. It features three systems of music. Each system includes a trumpet part (Tpts) at the top, a unison choir part in the middle, and a piano accompaniment (piano) at the bottom. The lyrics are written below the choir part. The score is marked with a mezzo-forte (mf) dynamic. A large, semi-transparent watermark reading 'Preview' is overlaid diagonally across the page.

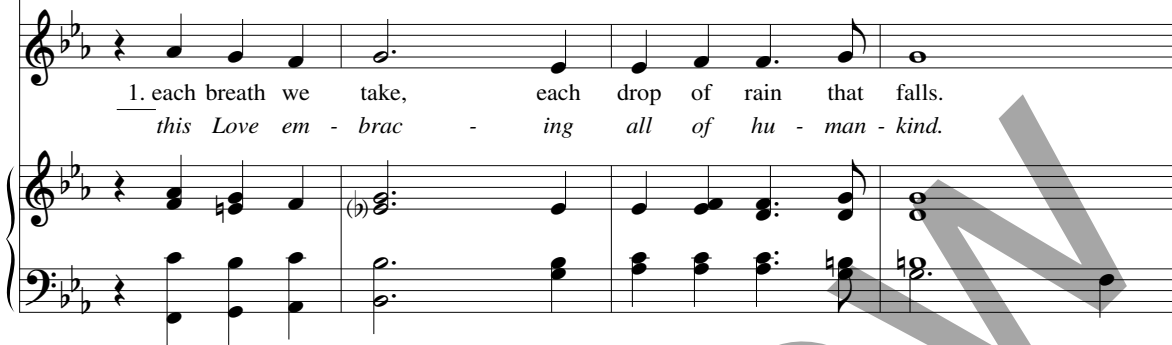

*Alternate text (Song of Compassion) is intended for interfaith services.

Trbs mf

1. each breath we take, each drop of rain that falls.
this Love embracing all of human-kind.

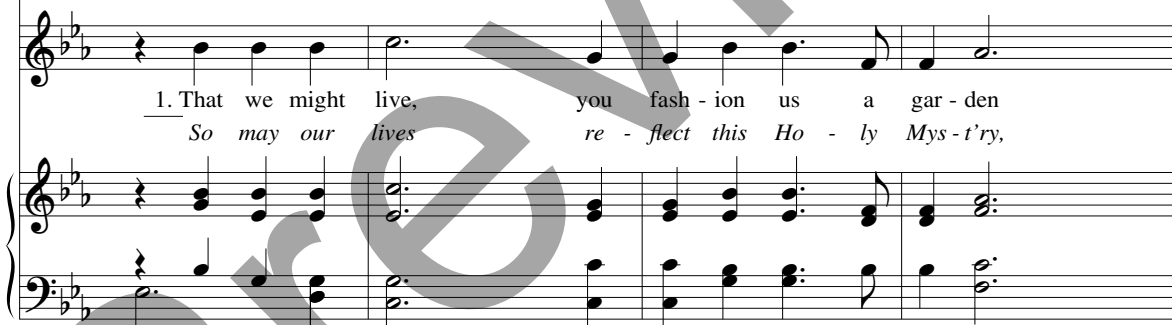

1. That we might live, you fashion us a garden
So may our lives reflect this Holy Mys-t'ry,

1. with fruit a - bun - dant for the good of all.
this Love embracing all of human-kind.

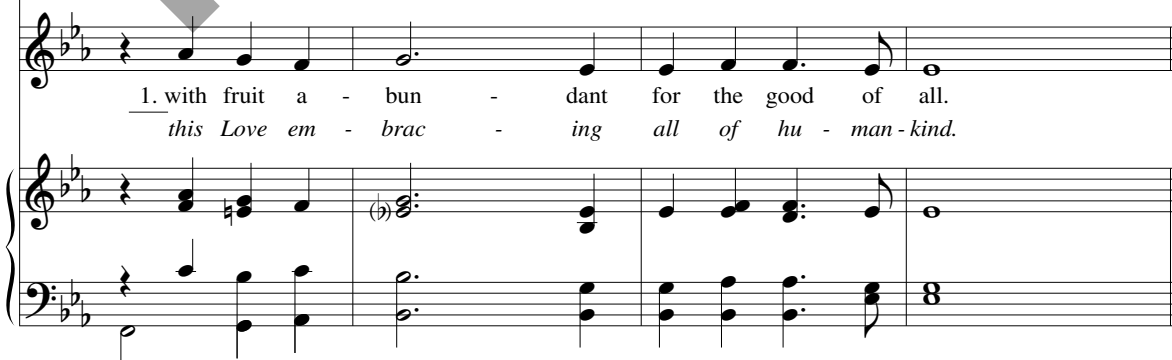

1. with fruit a - bun - dant for the good of all.

 to all this world, to ev - ery liv - ing thing.

Composer Notes

This song may be done grandly or in a simple hymn style. The octavo provides both arrangements. The double title indicates two different uses. The text “Praise Be to You” is a response to Pope Francis’s 2015 Encyclical Letter, Laudato Si’: On Care for Our Common Home. By embodying some of the major themes of the encyclical, the song invites worshipers to see that all of creation is embraced by the paschal mystery of Christ.

The alternative text, “Song of Compassion,” appears in italics in this octavo. It is intended for interfaith services and was inspired by the Charter for Compassion. This Charter, initiated by Karen Armstrong in 2007, invites people of different faith traditions and moral beliefs to discover the centrality of compassion within their own tradition. Based on the golden rule—do unto others as you would have them do unto you—it calls for interfaith collaboration in defending human dignity and building a culture of compassion in the face of the polarization, violence, and abuse so characteristic of our world. For more information on the Charter for Compassion: see www.charterforcompassion.org.
