Author Notes

Primarily a communion hymn, stressing the response of love on the part of the communicant to the gift of love which is Christ himself. It contains some of the ideas in the “Contemplation for Obtaining Divine Love” in the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius. But it could be used as an offertory hymn if stanza 2 is omitted.

—James Quinn, SJ

Topics: Communion, Blood of Christ, Offertory (omitting v. 2), Presence (God’s)
