Composer Notes

Beloved, Arise
My lover speaks and says to me, “Arise, my friend, my beautiful one, and come!” – Song of Songs 2:10

The sacrament of marriage is so packed with mystery. For “Beloved, Arise,” I knew that I wanted to draw from the Song of Songs, but it was difficult whittling down all of the imagery! What I decided to center the song around was the Scripture mentioned above. What is so beautiful about this particular sacrament is that it is a mirror of our union with Christ, the bridegroom, calling out to us, the Church, his bride. With love and patience, he bids us, “come and go with me.” Just as the sacrament of marriage is a choice between two people, we have a choice to enter into union with Christ, making the most of these days that love has given us.

Uses: Marriage, Anniversary Mass

For in one Spirit we were all baptized into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, slaves or free persons, and we were all given to drink of one Spirit. – 1 Corinthians 12:13

We come to the baptismal font not only as individuals, but as community. As we are baptized, we become part of that “one body,” the Church; we come to the water together. For “Gather at the Water,” it felt important not only to bring imagery from the Rite of Baptism, but to also point to the fact that none of us enter this journey alone. We stand together being filled and welcomed by these waters of newness, welcomed into the family of God. Tapping into my own Appalachian roots informed my approach to writing this piece, imagining voices being able to sing this a cappella or carrying just a guitar.

Healed in Christ
But he was pierced for our sins, crushed for our iniquity. He bore the punishment that makes us whole, by his wounds we were healed. – Isaiah 53:5

This song is so close to my heart; when poring over the rites for anointing, I thought instantly of not only the many people I have loved and who have gone before, but of all of us living still in our brokenness. “Blessed be our God, healing us in Christ”: this is an active, not passive, healing, happening every moment of every day, as we draw nearer in this life to God and eternity. I wanted to paint the images of Father, Son, Holy Spirit very clearly—the Father who grants us courage, the Son who binds our wounds by His own, the Spirit who comforts and abides.

May You Be Known
So, we are ambassadors for Christ, as if God were appealing through us. We implore you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God. – 2 Corinthians 5:20

For it is testified: “You are a priest forever according to the order of Melchizedek.” – Hebrews 7:17

I was so moved by Pope Francis’s poetic homily to his priests during the Chrism Mass of 2013. During that liturgy celebrating the Church’s sacred oils, Pope Francis asked the priests of our Church to take the fragrance they received at their ordination and go out “to the sheep.” He said the “smell of the sheep” is to be on them as priests, the beautiful fragrance of the sacred oils is to be left on the people to whom they minister. A priest is a priest forever and the fragrance of Christ is to go with them. Sarah and I wanted to write a song about the priesthood that reflects this vision from our Holy Father. – Robert Feduccia

May You Walk

So be imitators of God, as beloved children, and live in love, as Christ loved us and handed himself over for us as a sacrificial offering to God for a fragrant aroma. – Ephesians 5:1-2

This song is very special for me personally; I wrote it for my oldest daughter when she was being confirmed. Our young people have so much to wade through in this modern world, and it is sometimes difficult to maintain their relationship with God. So, these lyrics were a prayer for my daughter: “may you walk ever in the Lord, and may His spirit be with you at all times, may you stand always in the light of love.” There are two lyric settings for this, one for confirmation and one for graduation.

Uses: Confirmation, Graduation, Sending, Blessing, Commissioning

 Mercy on Me

“it is I, I, who wipe out, for my own sake, your offenses; your sins I remember no more.” – Isaiah 43:25

When writing “Mercy on Me,” I wanted to create a singable chorus, something that would be simple and memorable, and yet something that was a moving lyric. The hope was that it would be easy to do for a reconciliation service, to the point that people could pray the words, rather than having to rely heavily on the printed word. Singing and praying from the heart was the goal for this chorus. The repeated nature of the lyrics “Lord, have mercy on me” was certainly a prayer for me in the studio when I was singing it! I hope that it will have the same effect on others.

To Live with Him Forever

“I am the living bread that came down from heaven; whoever eats this bread will live forever; and the bread that I will give is my flesh for the life of the world.” – John 6:51

When my friend Robert Feduccia brought me the skeleton of this lyric, I immediately heard music! So I sat down to work, wrote the rest of the lyrics and, again—drawing from my own musical history—let flow the little Celtic melody you hear. What I love so much about this lyric is that it brings the temporal act of receiving the Eucharist into the eternal plane, with all the Saints and Angels—where we don’t always think about it taking place. It further emphasizes that we ourselves are an offering, brought to the altar, in our fallen state; joining with God actively in the Eucharist, welcome and beloved.
