Performance Notes

The powerful words of Psalm 90 are coupled here with a verse from Psalm 22 (all the earth shall remember . . .) and the words attributed to St. Augustine: our hearts are restless until they rest in God.

The utterly human quality of the unaccompanied voice is chosen to express these words. The verses move freely and expressively through emotions of trust and wonder, vulnerability and anger, reconciliation and joy. The triplets should not be treated mechanically but with a free, inner energy springing out of the prevailing mood or dynamic.

This is essentially a choral setting, with the refrain acting as a thought-pattern rather than strict congregational response. In some contexts people may want to participate in the refrain, while in others they will make their responses through listening and remembering. The organ could give quiet support if absolutely necessary, but try challenging your singers to enjoy the sounds of their own voices!

This is a piece for funerals and reconciliation services as well as celebrations of creation, rites of passage and new beginnings.

RESTLESS IS THE HEART

Bernadette Farrell

Refrain

Rest-less is the heart un-til it comes to rest in you. All the earth, all the earth shall re-mem-ber and re-turn to our God.

| 1. Lord, you have been our refuge through all time,
from one generation to the next;
before the mountains were born,
or the earth brought forth, you are God, without beginning or end. 2. To your eyes a thousand years are like a day, no more than a watch in the night. | You sweep us away like a dream,
like the grass
that springs green in the morning, but faded by night. 3. Make us know our life's shortness, make us know our life's shortness that we may gain true wisdom of heart.
In the morning,
the morning fill us with your love,
fill us with your love. |
